

IRVING, Texas, Dec. 19, 2024 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Exela Technologies BPA, LLC. ("Exela") (NASDAQ: XELA, XELAP), a leading provider of Business Process Automation solutions, today announced that it has been recognized as a Strong Performer in The Forrester Wave™: Task-Centric Automation Software, Q4 2024. The report evaluates the most significant task-centric automation providers, previously categorized under Robotic Process Automation (RPA), to help businesses identify the best-fit solutions for their needs.

The Forrester Wave™ evaluated 15 vendors across three categories: Current Offering, Strategy, and Customer Feedback.

Findings from the Report:

- Document Processing Capabilities: The report states that "Exela excels in intelligent content and document processing, setting a high standard in this area."
- Strategic Vision & Core Technologies: Exela's strategic vision is grounded in a commitment to innovation and the continuous enhancement of its product offerings.
- Customer-Centric Approach: Reference customers appreciate the combination of a robust task-centric automation product with instantly available human augmentation services supporting the success of their automation projects.

"We believe Exela's recognition as a Strong Performer reflects our commitment to empowering businesses with intelligent, scalable solutions that streamline operations and drive results," said Sriram Ramanathan, Global Chief Technology Officer, Exela Technologies BPA, LLC. "For us, this acknowledgment reinforces our focus on innovation and delivering exceptional value to our customers across diverse industries."

Forrester's evaluation stated that Exela Technologies BPA, LLC best suits organizations seeking strong content and document processing solutions with an appetite for AI in their task-centric automation projects. Exela's robust technology stack makes it a compelling choice for businesses prioritizing these aspects despite areas needing further development.
