

Company's New Facility Showcases Proprietary Technology Applications for Business Process Automation

IRVING, Texas, March 06, 2018 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Exela Technologies, Inc. ("Exela") (NASDAQ:XELA), one of the largest global providers of digital platforms for Business Process Automation ("BPA"), today announced the unveiling of its New York Innovation Center, conveniently located in downtown Manhattan. This unveiling is the first of a series of Exela innovation centers to be opened globally.

The unique New York Innovation Center and subsequent facilities will feature the Exela "Innovation Cave" – an interactive demo showcasing key BPA solutions and more than half a dozen technology and knowledge applications from the full BPA suite offered by Exela. The Center was unveiled in February and will be followed by the opening of a Dallas location in Q2 2018. Los Angeles and locations in Europe and Asia will be opening later this year.

"Our new, innovation centers further Exela's belief of delivering extraordinary experiences through our proprietary technology solutions," said Ron Cogburn, CEO, Exela Technologies. "We're excited to showcase our automation software and configurable solutions at these global centers in 2018."

Exela innovation centers will feature open floor plans designed to promote free flow of information and education in a collaborative environment. The spaces will be equipped with Exela's technology-enabled solutions from entry to exit through virtual reception, touch-screen technology and VR highlighting intelligent front and back office solutions. By providing a convenient and easy way to interact with its applications, companies will have a first-hand look at the quality and efficiency outputs Exela's business process automation tools provide, enabling organizations quality, efficiency and improved customer experience.
